

Master Gao Brewing Co. of Nanjing

Nanjing, China

Brewery Description:

Master Gao Brewing Co. of Nanjing was established in 2008 and started the Chinese craft beer movement with its “Brew Free” motto.

Master Gao is a pioneer among China’s home brewers, literally writing the Chinese book on it: “Get Your Own Brew.”

Master Gao is the leading innovator & ambassador for craft beer in mainland China. He has also developed the national homebrew competition and is the head of the craft beer association in China.

Baby Jasmine Tea Lager

■ Beer Collection

Jasmine Tea Lager is a lager that uses Jasmine Tea produced in Guangxi province. Each tea leaf is roasted with fresh Jasmine flowers at least six times in order to get the optimum amount of aroma, while adding fresh jasmine flowers to each roasting cycle. The tea is then brewed at a medium temperature for hours to extract the tea flavor but with minimal tannin extract, which adds to the final beer’s richness. The overall tea flavor on the beer is mild as to complement the lager quality of the beer, making this a very easy to drinking & refreshing beer.

Product Details

Style	Lager w/Jasmine Tea
Alc./Vol.	5.4%

Tasting Notes

Appearance	golden-yellow
-------------------	---------------

Available Formats:

- 24 * 11.2 oz Bottles
- 24 * 12.0 oz Cans
- 20L, 30L, & 50L Kegs

Puffed Rice Chinese Pale Ale

■ Beer Collection

Like pop corns to Americans, puffed rice is a traditional snack to Chinese. Before they started to vanish about twenty years ago, puffed rice vendors had taken every neighborhood’s street corners. They put rice into a high pressure cooker, and rotated the cooker over a charcoal stove. When inside temperature and pressure reached their targets, they released the cookers’ valve with an iron level wrench. With a big ‘bang!’, all the rice will burst out of the cooker and get puffed instantly when they hit the cold air. It’s amazing for children to watch a cup of 3oz rice turned into a big load of happiness.

When it comes to brewing, the whole grain puffed rice provides a cleaner and crispier body than gelatinized rice starch, and significantly more concentrated rice flavors. As a result Master Gao’s Puffed Rice Chinese Pale Ale has notes of sake & malt balanced with tropical hops and a very dry finish.

A most remarkable combination of sake, saison and champagne.

Product Details

Style	Chinese Pale Ale
Alc./Vol.	7.6%
Org. Gravity	14

Tasting Notes

Flavor	Notes of sake & malt balanced with tropical hops. A most remarkable combination of sake, saison and champagne.
Finish	A very dry finish

Available Formats:

- 24 * 12.0 oz Cans
- 20L & 30L Kegs

Legend

- |                       |                    |
|-----------------------|--------------------|
| ■ Beer Collection     | ■ Cider & Perry    |
| ■ Keg Collection      | ■ Sake & Yuzu Wine |
| ■ Real Ale Collection | ■ Mead             |
| ■ Vintage Collection  | ■ Spirits          |